System Environment for
Your Treasury

SAP® Treasury Consulting by Serrala — Your Requirements Are Our Mission

The significance of treasury in companies has grown steadily over the last few years, due to the increasing complexity of the global financial market and the growing need for transparency in finance. Consequently, a wide range of systems and functions for system-based corporate treasury management exists, making it hard for users to find the ideal solution for their organization. When searching the market for the right solution, users tend to forget that many of these treasury functions already exist within their corporate SAP ERP system. These functions, however, are not activated or not fully optimized to meet the corporate treasury goals.

Tap the Full Potential of Treasury in Your SAP

At Serrala, we specialize in raising awareness and in unveiling the hidden potential of treasury functions in your SAP systems. With our experienced team we help you make efficient use of your existing SAP S/4HANA®, SAP HANA® or previous SAP ECC® system environment and expand it as needed. Our finance and treasury management specialists take your specific corporate structures and processes into account, along with your existing investments in IT infrastructure, to create additional value for your company. Together with you, we identify your treasury requirements and verify the feasibility of these requirements in the SAP environment. Our goal is to help you avoid an environment full of siloed applications that would only duplicate existing functionalities. With our personalized consulting, we develop a holistic solution approach that is specifically tailored to your treasury management system environment. We help you activate the functions available in your SAP systems and compliment them with technological add-ons where applicable. As your partner for analysis, design and implementation we are able to offer you a unique service portfolio.
